

Independent Prison Monitoring Advisory Group

Terms of Reference

Background and Context

The new system of Independent Prison Monitoring will come into effect from August 31st 2015 and will operate from the office of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Prisons for Scotland (HMCIPS).

Prison Monitoring is a new organisational function within Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Prisons for Scotland (HMIPS), as is the role of Prison Monitoring Coordinator. This function is independent of but complementary to Prisons Inspection in terms of ensuring the humane treatment and conditions of prisoners.

The role of the Advisory Group is specified under the Public Services Reform (Inspection and Monitoring of Prisons) (Scotland) Order 2014. It is an essential role within the Scottish justice system as it ensures the continued independence of Independent Prison Monitors and supports the development of an excellent system of Independent Prison Monitoring.

The Order 2014 (Section 7F) specifies that HMCIPS must establish a Prison Monitoring Advisory Group.

The Advisory Group(AG) members are identified on the basis of their personal attributes and professional expertise. The advisors will play a significant role in future proofing and person proofing the continued success of Independent Monitoring in Scotland. While the AG will support the effectiveness of Independent Prison Monitoring in Scotland, it should be noted that decision making authority for the function remains with the Chief Inspector of Prisons.

Objectives

Independence

The AG provides guardianship of the continued independence of the Prison Monitoring function within HMIPS. This is in accordance with the requirements of the National Preventive Mechanism (NPM). It adds value by challenging assumptions, broadening horizons, guarding against the potential for 'groupthink' within HMIPS and where appropriate makes recommendations for improvement.

Strategic oversight

The AG provides strategic discussion on the current and future challenges of legislative direction at both a national and international level. This includes incorporation of relevant emerging evidence to ensure that prison monitoring continues to be an effective preventive measure in the penal institutions in Scotland. The AG includes expert outsiders who will be active in augmenting the knowledge, understanding and overall thinking of the group and HMCIPS.

Continuous Improvement

The AG will promote professionalism and provide assurance that the routine and regular review of our penal institutions in Scotland is performed by representatives of our civil society. This includes supporting the continuous improvement of conditions, focussing on how prisoners are treated and the quality of life in our prisons.

Function

In fulfilling the objectives set out above, the AG will:

- Regularly review the validity and effectiveness of the Independent Prison Monitoring Guidance Document and other supporting policies.
- Regularly review the validity and effectiveness of the training requirements for the Prison Monitoring Coordinators and the Independent Prison Monitors.
- Understand and identify areas of good practice and provide expert opinion on the effectiveness and impact of Independent Prison Monitoring in Scotland.
- Provide expert advice on relevant emerging legislative direction at a national and international level, evidence based research, and other relevant issues.
- Initiate and review actions for discussion based on the emerging themes from the supporting data provided by the Independent Prison Monitors and potential thematic reviews.
- Provide a forum for discussion of progress and data by prison, by region and nationally.
- Discuss, advise and agree the content, consistency and relevance of the annual reports of Independent Monitoring in Scotland prior to submission to Scottish Ministers.

The Chair

The Advisory Group will be chaired by a selected member of the Group and will be independent of HMCIPS and the Prison Monitoring Coordinators.

The Chair will provide effective leadership to the group. The Chair is responsible for ensuring that the minutes of the meetings and any reports accurately record the decisions taken. Where appropriate the Chair must also ensure that the views of individual members of the group have been taken into account. Once agreed by the Chair, the minutes will be published on HMIPS website as a matter of public record.

The agenda will be constructed by the Group secretariat in consultation with its members and subject the agreement of the Chair. Prior to all meetings, all members will be invited to contribute to the agenda. The secretariat function will be provided by HMIPS.

Members

Members of the Advisory Group are selected for their expertise, even when they are affiliated to specific stakeholder groups. They are appointed as individuals to fulfil their role in the Group and it is expected that in their role as a member they will act in the public interest and in the interest of Scotland's prisoners.

While AG members will serve in a personal capacity, they will draw on their experience as members of their respective organisations, their core skills and knowledge and relevant areas of interest.

In addition to the membership set out in the Order, the membership will include representatives from key fields and/or stakeholder groups that will provide the necessary levels of expertise.

Observers and contributors

Experts, mostly with criminal justice, human rights or an academic background may be invited to meetings or sessions of meetings on an ad-hoc basis to provide opinion information and evidence on specific matters.

Representatives from Scottish Government (as policy owners) on agreement, can attend sessions of the group in an observation capacity.

In all cases, individuals in attendance do not contribute towards the quorum and cannot move, second or vote on any decisions.

Governance

- The Group will meet a minimum of three times a year.
- Members of the Group will receive papers one week before each meeting.
- Minutes of the meeting will be kept by a minutes secretary and approved by the Chair.
- Members may be contacted between meetings for advice should the need arise.
- From time to time sub-groups may be formed to work on specific issues as appropriate.
- From time to time individuals may be co-opted to provide specific advice and expertise as required.
- Members will be appointed on a 3 year term and will serve no more than 3 terms.
- Membership will be reviewed on an annual cycle to ensure continuity via appraisal by the Chair. Appraisal of the Chair will be undertaken by HMCIPS. New members will be appointed by HMCIPS in agreement with the Chair. Appraisal arrangements are attached in Appendix A.

Group Review and Member Appraisal

Group Review

A review session will be held for the Advisory Group on an annual basis. This should focus on key achievements in the past year, key learning points and plans for improvement.

Member Appraisal

Annual appraisal for members provides an opportunity for two-way feedback. This should not preclude ongoing feedback through other routes, but is a mechanism to determine whether the member continues as part of the IPMAG for another year.

Appraisal does not include HMIPS staff who are subject to appraisal via their terms of employment.

Process

Appraisals will be undertaken by the Chair or Deputy Chair. The below pro forma forms the basis of appraisal, covering attendance at and contribution to the IPMAG. This should be completed by both the appraiser and the member and shared in advance for discussion either face to face or, if necessary, by telephone. The appraiser is then responsible for completing the agreed form, to be signed off by both parties. This will include a record of issues raised and actions agreed, along with timescales.

Chair Appraisal

Appraisal of the Chair will be undertaken jointly by HM Chief Inspector for Prisons for Scotland and the Deputy Chair.
